

Sesame Street, One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest

(Monsterpiece Theatre overture plays as we pan in on Cookie Monster seated in his chair wearing

Cookie Monster: Good evening, and welcome to Monsterpiece Theatre. Me Alistair Cookie. Tonight

(He picks up what looks like a script in a red school binder and reads to himself as the scene changes)

Chicken #1: Oooh, look girls, it's the handsome number three!

Chicken #2: Hey, flying my way?!

(The number three flies away off-screen.)

Chicken #3: Toodle-oo (not sure what she says here)!

(All three chickens look at the camera and go, "Huh?" as the scene changes back to the

Cookie Monster: Hey! Hold it, stop! Sorry, that not "One Flew Over Cuckoo's Nest";. No,

(Scene changes to two pigs snorting in the mud. One looks up as the sound of something flying toward

Pig #1: Sid?

Pig #2: Yeah, Henry?

Pig #1: Can a number four fly?

Pig #2: No, Henry.

(A number four with silver wings lands with a plop in the mud beside them.)

Pig #1: I didn't think so.

(As Cookie starts to speak, both pigs look at the camera. The scene changes back to the studio.)

Cookie Monster: Whoa! No good! Me very sorry, that not "One Flew Over Cuckoo's Nest";.

(Scene is a tree with one cuckoo bird in a nest.)

Cuckoo Bird: Cuckoo, cuckoo, cuckoo.

(A number one with silver wings flies swiftly overhead. The bird looks at the camera and says ...)

Cuckoo Bird: CuckOOO!

(Back to the studio.)

Cookie Monster: There you have it, "One Flew Over Cuckoo's Nest";. Finally! Very beau
