

Sesame Street, The O Song

O-O-O-O-O-O-O-Ooooo..

Grow and go

Roll over the road

Where the goat explodes all the Os

And the crow flies low

Past the croaking toad

And the boat floats over the ocean

But the wind did blow

And it started to snow

So the toad went home

To the telephone

He spoke to the goat

Who was eating a bowl of bones, potatoes and soap (o-o-o-o-o-o)

A rope did float

And hook the goat

And a boy climbed the stone made of Os

The Os turned to smoke

And started to float

Closer to the bulldozer

Who closed up the hole

So the cold wind could not blow

And the sun did show

So the roses could grow

And the whole world would know

That the boat, bulldozer, toad, and the crow

And the boy and the rope, riding the goat

Were all OK (o-o-o-o)

OK?

(o.....)
