

Seven Ender, Slip

well I'm sorry my dear
if i could have only said one thing it'd be one thing just short of your goodbye and i'm sorry i troubled you you deserve so much more than that someone with the strength to you who they really are but this power it's got me by the shoulder pushing me

oh and pushing me
while i'm just complaining and waiting tonight
when all will be dark and quiet and we both can pray that tomorrow yes tomorrow will not be the same don't complain

you were the only one that i've felt this way this pain that's inside of me now that i've let you just slip away and away you went so fast for i can smell you on the pillow next to me your dreams are still mixed with mine our hopes have been lost in time but next time next time will not be the

you were the only one
yes the only one that i've ever felt this way
oh this pain
yeah this pain
that's inside of me
just slip away
away
just slip away

oh same
that i've ever felt
oh this way
now that i've let you

too many memories i can't stop from playing over and over towards the back of my mind (slip away)
too many nights we won't be alone (slip away)
to poke fun at those things only we know too many notes we won't pass along when you wake up and i've gone too many hearts that will feel this pain look at me god
i've done it again
