

Seven Mary Three, Oceans Of Envy

I've got a photo booth picture
It reminded me of something you said to me
If everything you want is so far out of reach
If everything that you want is so far out of reach
Move a little closer to me

I held my breath as the water rushed in
I was drowning in the man I thought I'd be
A castaway but you were there for me

I did a perfect imitation of someone who's alive
Before I met you
Now colors seem to have a taste and a temperature
And everything doesn't seem so far away
Forever seems like it's never gonna be enough

I held my breath as the water rushed in
I was drowning in the man I thought I'd be
A castaway but you were there for me

I held my breath as the water rushed in
I was drowning in the man I thought I'd be
A castaway but you were there for me

I held my breath as the water rushed in
I was drowning in the man I thought I'd be
A castaway but you were there for me

I held my breath as the water rushed in
I was drowning in the man I thought I'd be
A castaway but you were there for me
