

Seven Nations, Big Dog

Maybe we're the ones to blame and maybe we're the ones who are insane well he stole a line from god when he said set this house on fire get me out of here because man i'm growing tired of seeing all these faces disappear

(chorus)

I don't know and i don't care but something's got to change somethings got to change something's got to around here

Listen for the sound of falling leaves and pray for the air at night too thick to breathe if a tree should fall at night and there's no one there to hear will it make a sound?
will it disappear?
there's no more need to fight cause we've all been kicked around no more need to steal so put the big dog down (chorus)
