Seven Witches, Cries Of The Living

Where have you left us
What are we to do
This place of such madness
If we only knew
How could you betray us
Lived your beckoning
Only to find we'd see the reckoning

It's the cries of the living
That awakens the dead
All the cries of the living
Now you're six feet from the edge

Sickness taking over Seeds of doom are sewn Slow death, starvation We must feed on our own Black skies in heaven Horizons of blood red Cries throughout the land Awakens the dead

Living death walks among us Becoming obsolete Eliminating the righteous The grand scheme to watch us die

Can you hear the cries Cries of the living Cries of the living Awakens the dead
