

Sevendust, Disgrace

I remember almost every time I felt love
Descend down and break away
Til it was gone

My every thought stuck inside
The hell that reminds me that I've just
Given up

Weighing down my soul the thought of it's
To much when I think about it all

[CHORUS:]

Can I still find a place where my mind stops all the suffering
Will I live in my disgrace on and on

And I know now all I ever wanted
Was peace inside a mind that's always haunted

Where's my sunshine, where's the repair for all the damage
I've done

Weighing down my soul the thought of it's
To much when I think about it all

[CHORUS - (twice)]

Can I still find a place where my mind stops all the suffering
Will I live my disgrace on and on
