

Shades Apart, Behind The Wheel

everyone wants to know what happened there everyone talks and talks the stories go around you never used to play those games before maybe you became someone else someone else

when you got behind the wheel who were you then something had to drag you down tell me how it really feels to lose control
when you got behind the wheel

everyone thinks they really know you now even the fakes that used to push you all around go from a zero to a hero now i can decide which side i'm on i can choose

who were you then
something had to drag you down
beyond control
when you got behind the wheel

gathered there cool night air shadows by the lake
on a dare
so unfair now it's much too late did you dare think you mean this much someday everyone calls your name - you know you love the sound you never used to play these games before maybe you changed into someone else

who were you then
something had to drag you down
with no control
when you got behind the wheel
