Shadow Gallery, The Archer Of Ben Salem

So I set out early morning Through the forests deep and wide I am vested and determined To go bring her back alive As I knife my way through dense fog In the silence of the field Stands a soldier like a statue With a crossbow trained on me

Don't move from my crosshairs I bring news from home The deadly pox is in the wrong hands But this I'm sure you know Your wife's blood filled with secrets Hand sequenced DNA Attempts to re-create the serum Have failed until today

My wife dead and buried and my daughter dragged away

Do you not find coincidental That your two rare blood types are the same Intelligence from Israel found her here Heavy with the blood pure child They shot your wife with pox tipped blow dart, got that human trial underway

Your daughter carries plasma, essential to vaccine Development required the sample Her blood now holds the key, a grand scheme of deception for one world government But the rogue Mossad stole blood at her birth So now we too hold the key

Outbreak around the whole world Sets the stage for the main event

Contingent on the bio terror New World Order rises and it stays A lone detachment of US Special Forces sends me here to set it right You'll aid the underground rebellion, Your country needs you for counterstrike
