

Shadow Host, Downfall Of My Holy Faith

downfall downfall
I'm feeling down my friend my faith has gone in twilight thoughts
downfall downfall
I'm falling down my friend

tell me your name
I'm a magic hand
I'm the only one who knows your life all diseases with which you're ill and who'll beat last nail in the cover of your coffin now listen to my voice I'll be grave for your last doubts you can't choose your fate give me your hand and your life will go quite in another way

lead through my brain
come taste my game
I'm the last who wants to heal you

downfall of my holy faith
there's no another ways to end
a game with my gift to foretell
I staked on fortune and I failed I'm warned by fate but I tell again confidentially I tell you:

"you're nailed to the barrel with powder I can cut your fetters" give me your gold
I can break your hope
I'm a fortune teller
where's your card

come come enter my nightmare prey prey and once I'll hear you god's slave listen to my words I will break your chains so come take part in downfall of my staggered faith

listen to my voice of lies I'll find rescue for you just pay the price

I'm the last who wants to turn on light I'm the last who wants to give you life
to use the chaos of your thoughts I'll never never tell you how money changed and killed my life

I get torn by sudden pain forbidden words I told again

I'm your god
I'm your holy faith rot in waiting for the end you've bought the calmness and confidence I have buried last remains of my black soul

I forget my father's face the gift left me and never will appear again
