

Shaimus, Put It Off

These days I seem to be
At a loss of reality
Surrounded by, shrouded by the walls
Glass eyes don't try to see the sun anymore

Surrounded by my fear, don't know
How to live round here, too many
Choices to be made

I'll put it off for another day
I'll wait till the sun is shining again
I'll wait until I can start hoping again
I'll wait until the sky isn't cloudy
Till then I'll wait

These days I'm losing sleep
Wretched dreams, they get the best of me
Running through the halls, running out of time
Breathing deep, desperately
Just try to clear my mind

Surrounded by my fear, don't know
How to live round here, too many
Choices to be made

I'll put it off for another day
I'll wait till the sun is shining again
I'll wait until I can start hoping again
I'll wait until the sky isn't cloudy
I'll wait till the sun is shining again
I'll wait until I can start hoping again
I'll wait until the sky isn't cloudy
Till then I'll wait
