Shakespear's Sister, Emotional Thing

i've seen the world from a first class seat i've read the bitch and ulysses i've tried religion and philosophy i've walked upon the sea now the air is getting thin you make my senses start to swim it's just a suicidal whim but i can't resist an emotional thing an emotional thing an emotional thing an emotional thing now isolation can be sweet no juvenile deliquent heat i don't have to tell ya where i'm (coming) from if i leave my cat suit on now the air is getting thin you make my senses start to spin it's just a suicidal whim but i can't resist

now the air is getting thin you make my senses start to spin now the air is getting thin you make my senses start to spin it's just a suicidal whim but i can't resist an emotional thing an emotional thing
