

Shakira feat. Alejandro Sanz, No Creo (I Don't Believe)

Only you, know me well
and because of that, my heart is yours
Only you, bend my reason and that's why I'll go anywhere you want me to.

I don't believe that the sea,
will someday lose its salty flavor,
I still don't believe in myself,
I don't believe in chance.

I only believe in your blue smile,
in your crystal stare,
in the kisses that you give me
and in everything you say.

Only you, know me well
and because of that, my heart is yours
Only you, bend my reason
and that's why I'll go anywhere you want me to.

If I talk too much
Don't set aside
that nobody has loved you,
the way I do.

I don't believe in Venus nor Mars
I don't believe in Carl Marx
I don't believe in Jean-Paul Sartre
I don't believe in Brian Weiss.

I only believe in your blue smile,
in your crystal stare,
in the kisses that you give me
and no matter what they say.

Only you, know me well
and because of that, my heart is yours
Only you, bend my reason
and that's why I'll go anywhere you want me to.

If I talk too much
Don't set aside
that nobody has loved you,
the way I do.

Oh, I want to be your firmament,
a song from your mouth,
always be the wind from your wings.

Your clod of salt,
a ray of sunlight
That wherever you say you want,
Me to go, I'll go

You're my slip, my happy country
My spring,
My stairway to the sky, yeah That's why I'm still here and walk with you and I could never say no to you.

Only you, know me well
and because of that, my heart is yours

and that's why I'll go anywhere you want me to.

Your clod of salt,
a ray of sunlight
That wherever you say you want,
Me to go, I'll go
You're my slip, my happy country
My spring,
My stairway to the sky...

If I talk too much
Don't set aside,
that nobody has loved you,
the way I do.
