

Shakira feat. Alejandro Sanz, Ojos As

yesterday i knew a sky without sun and a man without ground a priest in prison and a sad song without an owner ya he, ya he, ya la he and i knew your black eyes
and now yes that i can't live without them i asked to the heavens only one wish that in your eyes i can live i've traveled the entire world and a thing i'm coming to say to you i traveled from Bahrein until Beirut i went from the north until the south pole and i didn't finds eyes like those like the ones you have rabboussamai fikarrajaii fi ainaiha aralhayati ati ilaika min haza lkaaouni arjouka labbi labbi nidai

yesterday i saw a passing woman underneath her camel a salt river, a boat abandoned in the desert
and i saw your black eyes
