Shakra, The Way Back Home

I believe that fallen angels Are calling me tonight A lot of pictures, many stories Battling deep inside

I don't know what easy living means And I don't know what is true I hope I'll find the right sign For my way back home to you

TONIGHT I WANNA BE FREE LIVING IN MY WORLD OF FANTASY TONIGHT I WANNA BE FREE I HOPE I'LL FIND THE WAY BACK HOME TO ME

Whispering voices, different words Running through my brain Slowly like an early morning You call me back again

I know what real life can offer On my woven path tonight One step before the door is shut I find a way back to your light

TONIGHT I WANNA BE FREE

I know what real life can offer On my woven path tonight One step before the door is shut I find a way back to your light
