

Shamra, Strange

If you see me in a diner
Drawing on a napkin
Never try to look over my shoulder
Or you'll panic
If you think I'm strange
You're strange as well
And if you think I'm strange
You're strange as well
If you don't hit them over the head
Then anything can happen
One thing that I've learned
Before you give a gift you wrap it
If you think I'm strange

You're strange as well
And if you think I'm strange
You're strange as well
Now I can be myself
Because you're as strange as well
Don't blame it on yourself
I was strange before I met you
If you think I'm strange
You're strange as well
And if you think I'm strange
You're strange as well
