

Shane Minor, Tell Me Now

(George Teren/Bob Regan)

You never close your eyes when you kiss me
We hardly laugh or talk anymore
Lately there's been a chill in the air
That I can't ignore
When I ask, you say that it's nothing
But girl that nothing gets bigger each day
And I'm fighting the feeling
You might be slippin' away

Tell me that I'm crazy
Tell me that I'm right
Say we're gonna make it
It's worth the fight
Tell me that you love me
Tell me you want out
Baby I can take it
So tell me now
You're silence isn't gonna help me
Look me in the eye and tell me now

I gave you space, I tried to be patient
I want to listen, I'm willing to bend
But we can't work it out
If you're not gonna let me in
This time has come for you to say something
All I ask is that it be the truth
'Cause if we can't be honest
We don't have much left to lose

Tell me that I'm crazy
Tell me that I'm right
Say we're gonna make it
It's worth the fight
Tell me that you love me
Tell me you want out
Baby I can take it
So tell me now
You're silence isn't gonna help me
Look me in the eye and tell me now

Tell me that I'm crazy
Tell me that I'm right
Say we're gonna make it
It's worth the fight
Tell me that you love me
Tell me you want out
Baby I can take it
So tell me now
You're silence isn't gonna help me
