

Shannon Noll, Give It Away

In the dust of night I feel you breathing
And I ask myself if youre really there
Maybe you dont know

That sometimes I need you
More than I want to
Sometimes I dont give in
When I should do
You tell me you love me
Youre trying to convince yourself
But you give it away

Chorus
In the words that you dont say
Screamin louder and louder
And you cant hide what youre missin inside
But its there
In what you dont say

When the rain comes down I know youre crying
But you always tell me your ok
You surround yourself
With people to talk to Somewhere to run to Somewhere we can talk like we used to
Its never spoken
Something has broken down
And you dont wanna give it away

Sometimes I need you
More than I want to
Sometimes I dont give in
When I should do
Maybe I should do
Give it away, give it away, yeah

And you cant hide what youre missin inside
But its there
In the words that you dont say
The words that you dont say
