

ShattereD, Lies

I don't know why I'm plagued,
Between the bad and the worse
Life slowly fades,
From my weakened veins,
And I'm scared of the consequences.
The possibilities seep through my mind.
If things were better,
If you would just stop lying,
Maybe you'd seem right.
But your not, and never will be,
At this rate

Could you see me?
I couldn't see you
Because your lies threw you away
And made me waste

I don't know why I'm plagued
With listening to your shit
You just need to stop it
And let me be
So I can get on with my life,
If I really want to
I'm starting to get annoyed
You better leave if you want to live.
I'm through with you,
So leave me alone with your bitching.
And SHUT UP!

Could you see me?
I couldn't see you
Because your lies threw you away
And made me waste
