

ShattereD, sick of you

Well I don't wanna wake up to this tomorrow,
I don't wanna wake up at all if I have to feel this way,
I'm tired of everyone and I'm tired of myself,
I'm sick of the ignorance and I'm sick and tired of you

I thought I had a friend and I thought I had you,
I thought I has someone to talk to till you turned your back on me,
I thought I saw a light in the darkness,
But everything I've always had just faded away

You ended what we had and you'll never be forgiven,
I'll never look at you the same way.
Step down from your throne,
Because things aren't always what they seem to be.

I thought I had a friend and I thought I had you,
I thought I has someone to talk to till you turned your back on me,
I thought I saw a light in the darkness,
But everything I've always had just faded away
