

Shawn Hook, Reminding Me (ft. Vanessa Hudgens)

She keeps reminding me
That you're still gone
And I'm still lonely

He keeps reminding me
How good it was
When we're crazy

Wine, she's spitting out the wine
I forgot you left behind
Our favorite cherry red
Love, I know this isn't love
'Cause I'm still thinking of you
While she's getting undressed
I never should have left

She keeps reminding me
That you're still gone
And I'm still lonely

He keeps reminding me
How good it was
When we're crazy

In love, love
She keeps reminding me how good it was
Was...
She keeps reminding me

Nights, I miss the faded nights
Staying out till morning light
Having breakfast in bed
Now he, he's laying in the sheets
The ones you bought for me
All tangled in a mess
It should be you instead

She keeps reminding me
That you're still gone
And I'm still lonely

He keeps reminding me
How good it was
When we're crazy

In love, love
Was...
She keeps reminding me

I'm tryna forget you
With some regret
But I'm still hanging onto
The memories that you left
I deleted your number
With every text
I'm still tryna forget you
Forget you
