

Shawn Mullins, The Dream

I fell asleep about 12:30 last night with the remote held in my hand
I drifted off and I could see the light
I was dreaming of the Promised Land Oh I had a dream last night
but it's all a little foggy in my head
It was something about brotherhood
and love of all mankind
I spoke with an angel
but I can't remember what she said
You know as people we are powerless yet we live our lives in any old way Your people, my people, we're all God's people,
and I don't guess it matters anyway
Oh I had a dream last night
but it's all a little foggy in my head
It was something about brotherhood
and love of all mankind
I spoke with an angel
but I can't remember what she said
I fell asleep about 12:30 last night and I woke to the sound of the rounds of a .45 and as the ambulance pulled away I heard a neighbor say,
"So young and so full of life."
Oh I had a dream last night
but it's all a little foggy in my head
It was something about brotherhood
and love of all mankind
I spoke with an angel
but I can't remember what she said
