

Shayne Ward, Something Worth Living For

I dont wanna leave you here all by yourself
I just wanna let you know i'm there for you like noone else
I dont wanna drift up to another place
I just wanna lay here in your arms with your hand on my face

So lets not ever tell the moon about the sun
I'll keep hearing love songs, hoping every wrongs undone
Its foolish but we've only just begun
I dont wanna stop this, all my walls are caving in

I wanna give you something worth living for
I wanna tell you this and so much more
Your my everything
My universe

Im so mesmerised by your serenity
Hopefully you'll take me there inside your dreams
Just like all the leaves im falling over you
Its so unbelievable the airs so true
