

She Wants Revenge, It's Just Begun

Someone's gonna fall in love in here tonight.
Someone's gonna let their guard down one last time.
Maybe they once locked eyes,
perhaps they just decide,
but someone's gonna fall in love in here tonight,

in a dark room,
with our secrets,
thinking no one sees
but still they always know.
Whisper to me softly, "I'm yours"
until we know it's time to leave.
Act as if this is forever,
assume the roles we could never be.

Cause all these friends of mine would like to think that they've found the one.
But tell me that with us it's different tell me that we've just begun.

Someone's going home alone again tonight.
A quiet drive back to a cold house down the road.
With nobody left to right,
and no one to hold you tight.
Someone's going home alone again tonight.