

Sheena Easton, Just Another Broken Heart

Well let me get my share, someone's tender love and care
But there are people, people everywhere, who sound so proud, count me on again
You took your chance, from a display, you wrapped me up, took home to play
Your love ran out, threw me away, 'cos more than that, than you would pay

I feel used, confused, you know I do, you know I do (you know I do)
I'm no freak, I'm not unique, I'm not alone and no-one really cares

Chorus:

I'm just another broken heart, I'm just another broken heart
I'm just another broken heart, I'm just another broken heart
I'm just another broken heart

It feels like I was lone to you, a love reflect, you want a new
You count her eyes, you're overdue, you catch a place by someone new

I feel foiled, just soiled, you know I do, you know I do
And maybe, a refugee, I'm not alone and no-one really cares

(Solo)

I'm no freak, I'm not unique, I'm not alone and no-one really cares

chorus

Just another broken heart (repeats out)
