

Shelby Lynne, The Hurtin' Side

I remember days of sweet sunshine and the nights our love went on and on and I still believe you'll come back to me cause it's too hard to think you're really gone chorus:

there's a river of healing somewhere and I'm told that it flows deep and wide but this mountain of memories I'm climbing keeps me here on the hurtin' side

I can hear your voice whisper softly "I will love you till the day I die"
And just thinking of your warm love...well it makes me break right down and cry chorus x2
