

Shelly Poole, Give It Your Best

Honey, give it your best
Then ill put on the silk dress
You care about nothing babe but I like you

Babe I could use some back up please coz last night I couldn't sleep trying to erase my mind but It

Honey, give it your best
Then ill put on the silk dress
Oh you don't care bout nothing but I like you
Honey, give it your best
And ill put on that silk dress
We'll never be the same but I like you, I like you

That did it I could have told a white lie
That did it I should have had a door to get out
That did it I should have known better

Fair play to you does it well but I just can't work you out
And it sure is hard to leave when I want more
And if your mind don't work the same and your really not my kind who is it making me stay and who

Honey, give it your best...

Oh I could have told a white lie

That did it I should have known better
Oh and that did it I shouldn't be so curious
That did it I should have played hard to get at
That did it I should have known better
