

Shelly Poole, Little Wonder

Is it any wonder I'm behind?
Behind this wall I built I'm alive
I feed off all the things you think foolish
You say I care too much and I shouldn't do You say "oh it's a little wonder you still look pretty
When all your dreams are a haze
Gotta try and slow down, level out
Do they really matter anyway?"

Well I try so hard to make them not What can I tell you babe I couldn't pull it off
And there's nothing id like better than a little peace now
But I fight to the end coz it's what I need Oh its a little wonder you think I'm pretty
When all you see is a haze gonna try and slow down level out and make out it don't matter anyway

There's something that stops me from moving on with my love lady danger Planted hopes and fears and fever just wait a while This haze will clear in a while

If you hold me close I am strong
If you hold me back I will run
You say give me one good reason to wait for you
Well it may not be good but I adore you
Oh its a little wonder you still think I'm pretty
When after all we're a haze
Gonna try and slow down, level out
All the things I thought would bring better days
Do they really matter anyway?
Do they really matter anyway?
