

Shelter, Message Of The Bhagavat

Concealed revealed a solution a revolution without bloodshed finally. Disciplic succesion has placed in my possession
Complete so sweet a satisfying taste for an empty race
There's a fire in the city a fool won't admit it and only
A fool will sit right in it
Truth has been spoken for all mankind and if you search for peace
Then you can find
The blind will stay blind if they're inclined but the wise will Apply in this crucial time
In illusion in confusion the world's greatest brain's create more
Problems not solutions
Expand our bold stand there can be hope for modern man!

It's the message of the Bhagavat

History of the universe 18,000 verses for our edification
I sat like an ass in class for fourteen years at last I got some real
Education
Extinguishing the fire of our workday life that burns and burns
Us untill we break
Illuminating rejuvenating not degenerating giving shelter to the People who want truth
Truth has been spoken for all mankind and it's a sad mad world
When you can find
Man confined to the grind and they don't even mind to be working
For some jerk and leave their life behind
In illusion in confusion and don't think there won't be any Retribution
Expand our bold stand there can be hope for modern man!
