

Shermanology, Revolution of love

We're the children of tomorrow
We are born as one
There is a road for us to follow
That becomes undone
There's a fire burning in our soul
And it's only just begun
There's a million ways to a better world
But tonight there's one

A revolution is in there air
Put your hands up high
Write it in the sky
A revolution is in the air
Side by side
We are one tonight
We got to fight, fight for love
We got to fight, fight for love
A revolution of love
A revolution of love

A revolution is in there air
Put your hands up high
Write it in the sky
A revolution is in the air
Side by side
We are one tonight
We got to fight, fight for love
We got to fight, fight for love
A revolution of love
A revolution of love
