

Sherrie Austin, That's No Way To Break A Heart

You waltz into the room
Just like you'd never left
And for a moment or two
I could almost forget
You take me in your arms
And I fall again

That's no way to break a heart
You call my name I drop my guard
Why can't you play your chosen part
And stay away so I can make another start
That's no way to break a heart

Weren't you supposed to need
Something I could not give
But now you're lying so close to me
And you're taking everything
I can't hold on forever
For nothing more than this

That's no way to break a heart
You call my name I drop my guard
Why can't you play your chosen part
And stay away so I can make another start
That's no way to break a heart

No don't touch me
Don't you kiss me
Don't you realize
That's no way
To say goodbye

That's no way to break a heart
You call my name I drop my guard
Why can't you play your chosen part
And stay away so I can make another start
That's no way to break a heart
