Sheryl Crow, Father Sun

(feat. Jay Oliver)

Strange imaginations, children hide your secrets well Is it not temptation, makes you kiss and makes you tell? There's a traveler on the airwaves, and he's pleading for my heart Light up all the candles, I'm still in the dark

Hurry operator, get redemption on the line Pull back the curtains, I think I recognize those eyes If love is so criminal, then my penance due 'Cause I'm still holding onto letters written straight to you

[Chorus]

Oh, won't you save me, father sun, father sun I need to tell you that my life is on the run And now you know that you're the only one Oh, please forgive me, father sun, father sun

I swore I needed you in the back of my mind Laid the beads upon the table, right beside the wine It seems that we say forever, but forever's just a word "And I will be coming back for you" is all I heard [Chorus] Please don't forget me, father sun, father sun

I think I hear him whispering "Put your hand in my hand and you won't feel a thing"

[Chorus]

Oh won't you save me, father sun, father sun I need to tell you that my life is on the run And now you know that you're the only one Oh won't you save me, father sun, father sun Oh won't you save me, father sun, father sun

Oh won't you save me, save me, save me save me, save me, father sun
