

Sheryl Crow, Halfway There

You pull up in your Hummer
And you park next to my Volv
We're in monastery
We'll leave our full of holes
I might walk along the left side
And you walk along the right
We're both trying to reach the same place
We might not get there on time

But you know what's best
And I know what's best
Let's just agree to disagree
And we all know the rest

Baby if you dare
If you really dare
Baby if you dare
Won't you meet me half way there?
/2x

Each and every Sunday morning
You sit in your church pew
I'm sitting on a mountain talking in this glorious view
Well, I know your God is listening
And I know mine must be too
And if God is love and love is God
Than why do we argue?

I don't know why
But I wanna try
Well, we can listen to each other before we criticize

Baby if you dare
If you really dare
Baby if you dare
Won't you meet me half way there?
/2x

Could you meet me down the river
Hash it out over a beer
Could you smoke from the same peace pipe till our anger disappears?
You want respect
You want love
I want that too
For you and for me
And Everyone

But you know what's best
And I know what's best
Let's just agree to disagree
And we all know the rest

Baby if you dare
If you really dare
Baby if you dare
Won't you meet me half way there?
/2x
