

SheSays, Rosegardens

All the velvet rain doesn't kill my pain listen to the splashing streetlights taken me to my own shame But variation and hesitation wasn't my way
and reclamation
I did know that we were right

I will ever live again
will taste your lovely tears wanna lay down by your side within rosegardens

Takin you tonight is keeping me so bright meltin up and down so slowly like a dizzy holy light and all my praying and all my swayin round is my way and finding you down Ill be with you all around

I will ever live again
within gardens there I kiss u slowly tight and move my body right were staying day and night
within rosegardens
