

Shindig, Can't Let Go

here we stand face to face once again.
after all this time, what keeps coming back to me
are all the faded memories of you and me that i thought were dead and gone.

[chorus]

and now it's slowly sinking in as i feel i am dying in your arms.
tonight i know's my chance to show you how much i still care.
i can't let go.

there's so much that's left unsaid between us.
after all this time, i'm not proud of what i did and now there's nothing i won't give for the chance to make you mine again.

[repeat chorus]

i can't let go.
