(I hate you!)

(AT 950 PM CDT...NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE DOPPLER RADAR DETECTED A SEVERE

Call my name
Answer me where I stand
Call my name
Answer me where I stand

Here's a story of the way I wasn't meant to be raised
Bright yellow sun that fades away to black and blue every place
There's a bottle in the shape of your love for me

Now the clouds are twisting higher blinding arrows away
Piercing the darkness of these streets with my electricity

Cold shatters the sky
This is the first day of the rest of our lives
'Cause no one truly lives or dies

Call my name
(When did this storm begin?)
Answer me where I stand
Call my name
(When will this story end?)
Answer me where I stand

Every night you drink the money left to pay all the bills
No food for us but there's another fucking bottle of pills
Here's your trophy on my face its just an eye anyway

Now the clouds are twisting higher blinding arrows away
Piercing the darkness of these streets with my electricity

This will go no further I swear it dies today
Your nights will stay forever if you dare once more touch me

Call my name
(When did this storm begin?)
Answer me where I stand
Call my name
(When will this story end?)
Answer me where I stand
Where I stand

Call my name
(When did this storm begin?)
Call my name
(When will this story end?)
Call my name
(When did this storm begin?)
