

Shontelle, Cold Cold Summer

Shiver

Oh oh

I'm walking through this blizzard alone

Without you

I'm so cold

(Oh) this summer my heart is frozen

It's 98 degrees outside but I can't feel the sun

The only thing that keeps me warm are these cigarettes and rum

And frozen tears fall from my eyes

Like icicles in mid-July

I slowly start to lose my mind

I'm snow blind in summertime

And though this ice has got me slippin', slippin', slippin'

Chills since you been gone has got me trippen trippen

It's gonna be a cold

Cold, cold summer, without you (Cold cold summer cold cold summer)

It's gonna be a cold

Cold, cold summer, without you (Cold cold summer)

Weather man says good news go on out and catch a tan

So why am I still shivering

I just don't understand

Rainbow in the sky at noon

I'm dark side of the moon

And in my world the trees are bare

A hint of snow is in the air

And though this ice has got me slippin', slippin', slippin'

Chills since you been gone has got me trippen trippen

It's gonna be a cold

Cold, cold summer, without you (Cold cold summer cold cold summer)

It's gonna be a cold

Cold, cold summer, without you (Cold cold summer)

(So cold, so cold)

(Woah, mmmm hmmm)

(Cold summer, cold cold summer)

Write your name across my window pane

But the frost covers it up again

When you were by my side we were burning up in winter time

But the flame's gone out now since you've went away

It's gonna be a cold

Cold, cold summer, without you (Cold cold summer, cold cold summer)

It's gonna be a cold

Cold, cold summer, without you (Cold cold summer)

Without you (Cold cold summer)

Rainbow in the sky at noon

I'm dark side of the moon

And in my world the trees are bare

A hint of snow is in the air

Can't do this without you (Cold cold summer)

I'm frozen up (mmm, hmmm)

(Cold cold summer)

Looking outside there's nothing but stormy weather (Cold cold summer)
