

Showoff, Bully

When I was younger, so much younger than before
I used to be afraid, but I aint afraid no more.
Now I can understand all the shady things I've been through
It used to be you pushing me, but now I'm pushing you
And I've been looking back on all the things I said
What else is running through my head?
My self confidence is my drug, I'm feeling high and mighty.
Thoughts focus as my ears unplug, everything is so exciting.
I used to get my kicks from sticking needles in my veins.
Now I'm on the crucifix
my face as red as the ground
my blood has stained...
I'm feeling high and mighty.
