

Showoff, Hello Again

The same old song
You heard a thousand times
You sing along
The sappy "worth it" rhyme
But I don't know
How else to say I feel
It hurts inside
This feels surreal

I'll be right here
For you even though
You turn away
And I know where to go
I'll love you more
Than anyone ever could
And I can't speak
Even though I should

Hello again
It's me
The guy you don't know
I'm sorry that
I never let my feelings show
It's hard to say
Hello to someone
When they don't know
Who the hell I am

I'll be right here
For you even though
You turn away
And I know where to go
I'll love you more
Than anyone ever could
And I can't speak
Even though I should

I'll be right here
For you even though
You turn away
And I know where to go
I'll love you more
Than anyone ever could
And I can't speak

Even though I should...
