

Sick Of Change, One Day To The Next

Time passed by
and I had the nerve
to try to get back into your life.
There hadn't been quite enough time
for you to forgive me
for how bad I made you feel.

(Chorus)
And over time things change;
it's time for us to go our separate ways.
You weren't the person that I once knew.
you've changed ever since I first met you.

You changed from one day to the next.
Most of the time
I didn't know what to expect.
You fell away from God.
I love you,
but in a different way than you want me to.
