

Sicko, Believe

Could you believe anything was wrong in the world on a night like tonight Keep the beat up fast and everything's fine and the crowd reflects a shining light

Telling me that I've done something right for once Telling me that I mean something to someone and I wish there was a way to say just how much this means to me

This is the way that I had dreamed I can't believe that this is me

Me, and 10 years gone and this scene will not be replayed your patient ears through all the shows we've played the past four years, leave a debt unpaid
