

Silence Is Sexy, Night Out

Let's squeeze out every drop,
life is too short to stop
Why can't we stay a safe distance away from the top?
We talk and talk and talk and then agree
It won't set us free

The dj is playing a song,
I'm caught singing along
Words hit my ear and I know crystal clear I was wrong
My thoughts go round and round while hearing the sound
I still haven't found

The sheer comfort of drinking and taking pills
Is not enough for me
I need something real to grasp on to
The sheer comfort of drinking and taking pills
Is not enough for me
I need something real to grasp on to

A time to be born, and a time to die
If it's all useless, why should I try?
To do what is right in your eyes
Why should I?

A time to seek and a time to lose
Do I have options, something to choose?
A time to laugh and a time to cry
Why should I?

A time to mourn and a time to dance
Why should I bother if it's all chance?
If life is just one sad goodbye
Why should I?

I want to live and don't want to die
If it's all useless, why should I try?
The day is done and the end is nigh
Why should I?

A time to be born, and a time to die
If it's all useless, why should I try?
To do what is right in your eyes
Why should I?
