

Silence Is Sexy, This Ain't Hollywood

The way you look reminds me of a movie scene
That we were in
You said your line and I was shocked in black and white
Our plot wore thin

How the years went by in a single sigh
Have you understood?
On this sinking ship we are losing grip
This ain't Hollywood

Oh, I can imagine everything ends well
That far away
All the scenes you're showing me seem to be the parts
That I can't play

On this sinking ship we are losing grip
Have you understood?
This ain't Hollywood

You pretend that you're not faking
Plastic dreams won't last for long
And as long as hearts are breaking
I'll play my part by being strong

This ain't Hollywood
