Silence, Surrender

It's here
My sweet baby
So soon, yet overdue
It's here
Here to claim you
The time we bought is through

Surrender, my love Surrender, it's alright Give in to the night

I must let you go now Brave little girl One more child devoured by this world

It's here Like a hound that's onto a wounded prey What was distant future has just become today

Surrender, my love Surrender, it's alright Give in to the night

I must let you go now Brave little girl Nothing's worse for children than this world
