

Silence, The 5th Elephant

I would like a spine
I'm always on my hands and knees Gravity's the worst hereditary disease
I'd like to see the forest but I can't see beyond these trees Even though I can not name them all I'd like to sail the seven seas

I can't find the missing element
What's important?
What's irrelevant?

I want to have a wild youth I've got to have something to miss I would like a sample of the Yeti-like global peace Everybody's seen it but no-one ever caught the beast Oh, what a sad collection of thoughts this is
