

Silent Mourning, Shadow Of Hate

I hate you and everything, you fucking stand for you fucking walking waste.
You take my life and leave the grief, for every fucking minute there is no relief.
In my eyes you see the burn, of a flame of a passion that I love to yearn.
My sacrifice, expended time, you never even gave me whats truly mine.
The punishments, the sentence past, you laugh while you hid behind your fucking mask.
You torture me, Im ripped apart, for all the abuse you fucking left a mark.
Your reign is done youre falling off your throne, youre gonna pay for all the shit youve fucking shown
Its time for you to meet your doom, finally my love can now fucking bloom.
The sun will always shine on this heart of mine. It doesnt matter all the shit you have put me through My soul is ready now and I will take a vow. I promise you that you will never hurt me again.
The thoughts in my head, of wishing you were dead. I hope and pray that one day soon he will answer
I was so blind but now I see the light and I can never forgive you for all the wrong youve done
