Silentium, Shame Forever Mine

Pain my friend In solitude This coldness suits me right All the pain I've struck through you Is the shame forever mine

I felt you in my shiver I hear you in my dreams My body numb and linger Stunned as dark reveals

It breathes the sweat of night air It lurks behind my brows I'm sorry that you were here To witness all my faults

Pain my friend...

Longing for touch Longing for arms Around my hips Lips for my lips

I'm worn and cast aside Her thighs lay open wide

Yearning for one Yearning for all In lust I beg Tongue on my neck

I'm worn and cast aside Her thighs lay open wide

Pain my friend...

Invitia amente est Perpetua pudeo mei Carita Suus Renovare Furore et dolore suus

To hurt and bleed this I deserve May every tear strike every nerve I dwell in depths, where I belong Just let me sink with flames below

...with flames below!

Let my life, hour by hour, Like fallen leaf by earth devour With hollow end my hollow life Without her bear my solemn strife

Longing for touch...

My emptiness Yearning for one I hide in you Yearning for all The tears I cry In lust I beg The shame I hide Tongue on my neck Rain my friend You were right This emptiness suits me fine Every torn out Tear she cried Are for shame forever mine

Shame my friend I hide in you This loneliness stills the night Every moment Without you Is the shame forever - mine!
