

Simon Lyngge, Love Comes Back To You

oh love comes back to you it's all giving and taking don't ever be a fool ,no try to mend the heart you're breaking to to to to to to a thought is but a thought and a heart is not behind it love can't be so nor but but if you get you must repay it if one day you do find is what you left behind then ring a bell and make the spotlight clear you see magic will appear
give me love
give me love
and I'll bring it back to you
give me love
give me love
an image in your mind it might be past or present but since time we cant rewind you better stop and take its lesson
then ring a bell and make the spotlight clear
give me love
give me love
give me love
give me love(oh give me love) give me love(oh give me love youve gotta give me love )
give me love
give me love
