

Simon Says, Bold

What's your problem?
Can you help me understand?
Can I say I'm sorry?
Now are we - are we friends my friend?
Now the night grows colder,
And I'm shaking now.
Is it almost over?
I wanna run like hell.
And I'm trying so hard,
But you haven't heard a word I've said,
It doesn't matter though.
Why do I deserve this?
You can't make me kiss your hand,
Then I look around me,
It's one to ten,
So I've given in.
And the bright light weakens,
As they're closing in,
But I stand here boldly,
Are you happy now?
And I'm trying so hard,
But you haven't heard a word I've said,
It doesn't matter though.
And now you're laughing,
'Cause your fists will soon sink into me.
Into my skin,
I give up you win
And I've said it over and over again.
Helpless I am dead,
Was it something that I said?
Can you help me understand?
Will I make it through or is this the end?
Helpless I am dead,
Was it something that I said?
Can you help me understand?
Will I make it through or is this the end?
And I'm tryig so hard,
But you haven't heard a word I've said.
It doesn't matter though.
And now you're laughing,
'Cause your fists will soon sink into me,
Into my skin,
I give up you win,
And I've said it over and over again.
