

Simon Says, Slider

Looking back I realize I've viewed through someone else's eyes
It's easy to forget that at times
I don't think you really care and I don't even want you near
And I think it's all a game

(chorus)

Leave your life
Take along all the changes
Make your own mistakes

Sculpture of etched memories
The house in the old neighborhood
And every new day cracks the mirror
I don't think you really care and I don't even want you near
and I think it's all a game

(chorus)

Watch your back for the unexpected
Throw it all away

I've recognized and burned the bridges
I've recognized it all

(chorus)

Watch you back for the unexpected
Throw it all away
